WORLD'S MAT TITLE IS WON BY YOKEL

Salt Lake Wrestler Wins Championship from Henry Gehring in Straight Falls, but Victor Has One Close Call Near Finish.

Mike Yokel of Salt Lake, world's champion middle-weight wrestler!

Sounds nice, doesn't it, and it's worth real money as an advertisement for Utah and Utah's metropolis.

Yokel won the championship from a man who was at least five and perhaps ten pounds over the 158-pound limit. Gehring forfeited $200 rather than weigh in.

It was a wonderful match and it took brains as well as brawn to win it. Both men used their heads, lagging at times to deceive the opponent and then coming with a tremendous rush. They were as wily, tricky, fierce and at times as cruel as panthers, yet it was a clean match, with no suggestions of fouls.

Yokel won both falls with the same hold which Referee Ben Harker pronounced a reverse bar and head chancery. The first fall required 1 hour 47 minutes and 10 seconds. The second fall was gained in 50 minutes flat, according to D. A. Callahan, official timekeeper. In the second bout Yokel had a close call, but his quickness saved him.

After the second fall Gehring rushed to the footlights, held up his hands and when two minutes of cheering mingled with hissing ceased, he cried out:

"They put resin on the mat. It was a dirty mean trick."

When he said that he was laboring under great disappointment and excitement, hence the statement should not be remembered against him. There was resin on the mat because it had been used for boxing, but Yokel had as much resin on him as Gehring.

Herb Mike Yokel, the renowned specialist who guarantees to reduce swollen reputations, no matter of how long standing, performed two capital operations last night on Henry Gehring, a patient who had come all the way from Cleveland, O., for treatment. The sufferer from Ohio had been stung by the current championship heat and it required two hours and thirty-seven minutes to get the virus out of his system, but he is thoroughly cured. The patient struggled desperately all through both operations, but Herb Yokel seemed to get a little more capable with every half hour that passed.

Henry Gehring will have almost $1000 to console him for the loss of the middle-weight wrestling championship of the world, for there were no vacant seats in the Salt Lake theater last night. Of the $4000 taken in, $2000 goes for expenses and the wrestlers cut the balance 50 and 50 per cent. Promoter Harry Heugan is the man who will give him his money.

It was a representative audience, too. Professional men, city officials, business men, church dignitaries and others rubbed shoulders. The cheering was tremendous when Yokel won the first fall, but was considerably after the second fall, but many had taken their seats for the first fall was won.

The athletic entertainment began promptly at 8 o'clock when a strong man known as The Great Moron lifted a barrel of water said to weigh 500 pounds. Following this was a thirty-minute wrestling bout between Ray McCarron of Idaho Falls and Danny Keith, the fireman. It was a draw.

Wrestlers Cheered.

Gehring came on the stage at 9:30 o'clock and was given a rousing reception. Yokel arrived a minute later and the cheering was not much louder than that which had been given his opponent. James A. Stanley, the announcer, introduced Referee Ben Harker and performed the same office for both wrestlers.

Stanley then explained that Gehring had forfeited $200 rather than weigh in as he agreed to do at 5 o'clock in the afternoon. Gehring did not dispute the statement that his weight was a secret. He weighed between 162 and 166 pounds.

Challenger to wrestle the winner were from Harbertson, Turner and a number of others. Yokel and Gehring were called to the center of the ring and were instructed by the referee.

They grappled at exactly 9:30 o'clock. Both were cautious and seemed to respect the caliber of the foe. It was almost ten minutes before Yokel got behind Gehring for a moment, but the Buckeye grappler easily broke away.

When they had been going fifteen minutes Gehring made a quick dive for Yokel's ankles and he tried the expedient a score of times during the first bout without once succeeding in getting behind Mike's ankles. Yokel's feet were in a long, grueling contest and appeared to be conserving themselves.

Gehring's four reaches showed to great advantage. From the very first he began putting one hand over Yokel's eye and passed the other back and forth before Mike's face hoping to mar his judgment of distance. After Gehring failed he had Yokel bewildered by

THORPE'S MARTYRDOM MAY NOT BE IN VAIN

Abolish Unjust and Anti-Quoted Rules.

CINCINNATI, O., Feb. 5.—The National Amateur Baseball commission at its next meeting will discuss the question of amateur athletics and will seek to revise the present rules which declare an amateur athlete a professional, if he plays professional baseball, according to a statement by August Hermann, president of the National commission, here today. The discussion will be a result of the recent Thorpe ruling.

"The stand which the rules of amateur athletics take against professional baseball," said President Hermann today, "is a relic of the dark ages. Thirty or thirty-five years ago the professional player was regarded with suspicion and marked prejudices. Unpleasant memories of the Hall-Dwight-Nichols-Craver scandal of 1871 still cling to the game and its representatives. It was while the game was still in this unhappy position that the laws still governing amateur athletics were formulated. Baseball since those times has advanced to a standing of integrity and public confidence—the amateur laws have, practically, stood stock still.

"The college boy who goes out and plays ball in the summer months should not be confronted with the alternative of either deliberate falsehood or the penalty now inflicted by the amateur rules. Both common justice and the honor we owe the game demand that some early action should be taken—and the governing forces of baseball should be the first to cope with the situation. The time between now and the schedule meeting is limited, hence concerted, definite action may not be possible, but we can at least formulate plans for the immediate future."
